* And at this time, to publiſh to the world, of the helpes that of late I haue had in England, of Honourable, and other worthy perſons, ſome by gifts, others by lending great ſummes to lift vp this worke to the eye of the World for the generall good, lying languiſhing for want of Printing, which now being done ſo much by their good meanes, I doe here to the world firſt profeſſe my hearty thankefulneſſe to the Almighty God, that hath of his goodneſſe thus farre enabled my weake bodie and meanes, in ſo great a worke, and next, due remembrance vnto men, that by their meanes, it is thus publiſhed in Print: And if the Bookes now Printed, may be at a reaſonable rate ſould and vented, I may be incouraged, and others who are ingaged about this Worke, in great ſummes, may be the ſooner ſatisfied and payed. And if any bee profited or pleaſured hereby, if they will next vnder GOD, acknowledge with me thankefulneſſe vnto thoſe, that haue been great meanes to bring it to this paſſe, I ſhall bee the more comforted, that they doe Sympathize with mee, in my true affection, and due reſpect towards them therefore.

And whereas I may incurre offence, or ſuſpicion of flattery, to ſet downe the names of ſome worthy perſons in this Kingdome, who haue much fauoured and furthered this Worke, and without whom I could finde no other meanes at that time, to bring it to this paſſe: For that their worths are ſuch, that euery day as occaſion is offered (being in ſo great places) they may, and doe performe greater matters in the Common-wealth: For theſe and ſome other reſpects, I doe forbeare the here naming of them.

And whereas ſome ſixe yeeres ſince, when I had done this Volume Etymologicall of eleuen Languages as copious as I could for the Preſſe, being then in Oxford, and hauing my Copie, and company of certaine Strangers and Schollers at mine owne charge about the Worke there, I made ſuit vnto the Vniuerſitie to haue the Teſtimony of my paines, and expence, and their approbation of this Worke, which vnder the Seale of the Vniuerſitie, with the hands of the Right Worſhipfull M^r. Vicechancellour, and the reſt of the heads of houſes there, they then freely gaue mee (to my firſt comfort, after my ſo long and chargeable labours herein:) And for that then I found, I had ſpent all my ſubſtance thereupon, and gotten greatly into debt thereby, I laboured for His Maieſties Letters Patents, which by the meanes of certaine Right honourable Perſonages, by ſhewing ſome part of the Worke, I obtained his Maieſties gracious Graunt herein. For which, and other furtherances for ſetting this Worke forward, I remaine to their Honours much obliged and bound: which Letters Patents, with my Copie, I tendred to the Company of Stationers to be ſould, who by reaſon of my great debts to be paid thereby, refuſed the ſame. Whereby I was forced to proiect how I might get it Printed, and thought, if it might be hearkened vnto, that Multorum manibus grande leuetur opus. I firſt preferred Petition to the Honourable and Right Worſhipfull Benchers and Gentlemen, of the honourable Societies of Graies Inne, and Lincolnes Inne, by whoſe goodneſſe and Contributions it was firſt ſet on Printing: After them followed diuers Honorable and Right Worſhipfull Perſonages, Biſhops and others, which I forbeare to name, for former reſpects, and returne to the firſt ſetters in Print of this Worke, the honourable Societies of the Innes or Court, with my proceedings by Petition to the honourable Societie of the Inner Temple, with like ſucceſſe, and here likewiſe publiſh my due reſpect and thankefulneſſe to them, for furthering this worke, as the former Innes of Court before had done. And whereas before I came to that Inne of Court, and ſince it hath beene ſaid to me, that I ſhould neuer be able to raiſe ſuch ſummes to the Printing of ſo great a Worke, but that which they then did, they thought well of in reſpect of my endeauours, and therefore did the leſſe, becauſe they had no hope, that euer it ſhould be brought to paſſe (as a thing indeede in theſe times very hard for that Haud facilè emergunt quorum virtutibus obſtat res anguſta domi) yet now by Gods bleſsing, and their goodneſſe to ſet it firſt on, I haue by that meanes wrought my ſelfe in credite againe to borrow great ſummes thereupon, to make an end thereof, to preſent it to your viewes as you ſee, (though it hath coſt me the hazard of my life therefore.) And I doe here proteſt, that I neuer had intent to trouble any man with Contribution, if the Worke and my ſelfe had not beene in theſe deſperate termes; wherefore as ſoone as I could, I freed the Worke and my ſelfe from that imputation, and little reſpect (of a thing neuer ſo good in ſuch needie courſes.) Yet if a man duely conſider, or rather be driuen to prooue, they ſhall finde, that Neceſſitie makes men Artiſts, that neuer meant to be skilled, and Cowards to fight, that durſt not otherwiſe draw weapon, and if honour or profite be alſo propoſed, greater ſpurres cannot be ſet to a man that hath ſpirit euen to performe actions that are ſeeming beyond his power.

I had a minde to haue made ſuit in like manner to the Middle-Temple, as to the other Innes of Court, but as ſoone as I could get credite, to borrow money to accompliſh the

Worke,

Worke, I did forbeare them, and all others in that kinde; yet one I muſt acknowledge of that houſe, whoſe purſe hath payd to the ſetting forward of this, as of diuers other good workes (if I be ſilent, dayly his good deeds doe ſpeake the ſame) who wel knowes a great part of my expence, and paines hereabouts, and alſo at diuers times, like an honourable Gentleman hath done me about this Worke, ſundry former fauours.

And that you may now ſee I meant not to proſecute theſe courſes of Contribution, when that I could borrow elſewhere, I will here ſet downe that a Gentleman of worth and vnderſtanding, Sir Iohn Lawrence Knight, (who not only was one of the firſt and moſt bountifulleſt Benefactors to raiſe this Worke vp, but alſo ſeeing it ſticke for want of ſummes to ſet it forward, lending and laying downe further out of his purſe, a great ſumme, and ioyning with the Right Worſhipfull Mr. Doctor Aileworth of Great Milton, Mr. Paul Peart; and Mr. Henry Brigges, they did at their charge, Print off the reſt, and greateſt part of the maine Booke of eleuen Languages here done; and a Right Worſhipfull and moſt learned Gentleman, Sir Henry Spelman Knight, and a worthy Citizen Maſter Richard Booth, and againe the aboue-named Mr. Henry Brigges; (all which had formerly likewiſe furthered the firſt worke) did lend and lay downe ſo much money more, to the Compiling and Printing of this new Spaniſh Dictionary, in Spaniſh, Latine and Engliſh, and ſometimes other Languages, with ſome certaine thouſands of words, and their Etymologies, added to my former Spaniſh Dictionarie, to theſe Gentlemen, for their helpes and moneys, I do here publiſh my thankfulnes to them therefore, and vnto one Mr. Robert Treſwell Eſquire, Surueyor of His Maieſties Woods, and Mr. William Caldwell Eſquire, both which in the former, and later, haue engaged themſelues in good ſummes for the ſooner and better bringing them to paſſe. I do likewiſe heere acknowledge the name, and continued good turnes and fauors to ſet this Worke forward, of Mr. Thomas Warricke Eſquire, and Mr. Iohn Porie, a little before he went to trauell out of England. And whereas I made an end of the Dictionary Etymologicall of eleuen Languages in Oxford, and began and made an end of the Spaniſh in Cambridge; and much the ſooner by the fauourable goodneſſe of the Right Worſhipfull Vicechancellours and the reſt of the heads of houſes of both Vniuerſities, to animate ſome Schollers to ſet to their helping hands, for which their forwardneſſe to ſet foorth this Worke, I doe heere publiſh my humble thankefulneſſe to them all, and eſpecially to ſome of them, to whom I remaine more particularly bound, whoſe names I here forbeare, for priuate reſpects. And I doe heartily wiſh, that all thoſe that are pleaſured hereby, might acknowledge with mee thankefulneſſe to thoſe, by whoſe good meanes it is thus brought to paſſe, and would likewiſe wiſh (though not likely to obtaine) Readers, without gaule or bitterneſſe, ready to excuſe, ſlow to condemne, full of charitable ſpirit, voide of their owne vaines and opinions: and I doe promiſe what faults I haue herein committed, being thereof admoniſhed, I will doe my beſt to make amends, for as yet I cannot winne out time, to reade ouer the Worke, to finde out the Errata: And as for the contenting of ſome conceited, that make ſleight account of making of a Dictionary, I ſtriue not, but appeale to thoſe that haue laboured in this kind, who beſt by their owne triall, can iudge hereof; and for others I eſteeme not their accompt, till they haue made like triall, yet doe in all things ſubmit my ſelfe, and doings, to the cenſure of the wiſer ſort, diſcreete and learned. If this Epiſtle or the former ſeeme to thee too tedious, vnderſtand that I meant not to ſet a little Gate to ſo great a Building, and ſo I leaue this Worke, and my ſelfe, hard to pleaſe few, harder to pleaſe many, impoſſible to pleaſe all.

WHereas ſome Eleuen yeeres ſince, Mr. IOHN MINSHEV, Profeſſor of Languages in LONDON, to his great paynes and coſt, and his due praiſe and commendation, as to the publike good, Publiſhed in Print the Spaniſh Dictionarie Spaniſh and Engliſh; and è conuerſò, Engliſh and Spaniſh, with a Spaniſh Grammar, and ſeuen Spaniſh Dialogues, adioyning to the ſame; and then began a Dictionarie in fiue Languages, which euer ſince, to his exceſſiue charge, labour and paynes (hauing no other Liuing for Himſelfe, Wife, and Children, but his Teaching of Languages) he hath increaſed to the number of Eleuen Languages; viz. Engliſh, Britiſh or Welſh, Low Dutch (and ſometimes Saxon) high Dutch, French, Italian, Spaniſh, Portugall, Latin, Greeke, and Hebrew, ſometime the Chaldye and Arabick Tongues, with the Etymologies and Reaſons of all Wordes in all theſe Languages, as much as many Scholers (ſome Engliſh-men, ſome Welſh, ſome high Dutch-men, low Dutch, French, ſome Italians, &c. all learned in the Tongues) for diuers yeeres could find out, by reading the beſt Authors in all theſe Languages, the like whereof as yet neuer Publiſhed in Print, and all at his great charges and expences, towards the valew of a thouſand Markes or thereabouts, as by the number of yeeres, and perſons imployed in this Worke, and by his Papers written thereof may be coniectured.

And hauing now finiſhed and ended the Alphabet, the foure and twentie Letters, in all theſe Languages, as he thinketh, and by the iudgement of the Learned ſeemeth, will be a ſufficient ample Dictionarie Etymologicall: For the compleating, examining, reuiewing, and correcting whereof; he came downe from LONDON, with his Company of Strangers and Scholers to this our Vniuerſitie of OXFORD; and to his, ioyned other Strangers and Scholers, for the more perfect reuiew and ouer-ſight, for the ſpace of theſe foure moneths amongſt Vs, to his farther great expences, and appointed euery one in his owne Language (and that he had moſt skill in) to runne ouer, that it now might goe the more correct to the Preſſe: the particulars of ſome Wordes, drawne out of the Mayne (which remayneth here as yet in OXFORD amongſt vs) he carryeth with him, to ſhew to whom ſhall be deſirous of the ſame, as alſo this our TESTIMONIALL of Him, as the worth of the worke deſerues; That it is in our Opinions, A rare and excellent Worke in this kinde, pleaſant and profitable, and now correct in all theſe Tongues, and very Worthy to be Printed and Publiſhed throughout Chriſtendome, for the Benefit and helpe of Learning in all theſe Tongues, for the Credit of our Nation, and the Speciall aduancement of our Engliſh Tongue amongſt other Nations. And that it were great pitty, that he (after his exceſſiue charges; labour, and ſo long time ſpent thereupon) ſhould be any way preiudiced, and not fauoured & furthered by men of Worth, as He, for his great Induſtrie, paines, and expences, for the aduancement of Learning in the Tongues, moſt worthily deſerues. Thus much we thought good (in teſtimonie of the Truth) in Chriſtian dutie, to ſet our Hands and Seale of our Vniuerſitie, the two and twentieth of Nouember, one thouſand ſixe hundred and ten.

Manwood in his first part of Forest Lawes, Pag. 167. maketh a great difference betwixt Baile and Mainprise. For (saith hee) hee that is mainprised, is alwaies said to be at large, and goe at his owne libertie, out of ward, after hee is let to mainprise, vntill the day of his appearance. But it is otherwise where a man is let to Baile, by 4. or 2. men, or by the L. Chiefe Iustice in Eyre of the Forest vntill a certaine day. For he is alwaies accounted by the Law, to bee in their ward and custodie for the time they vndertooke for him. And they may, if they will, keepe him in ward or prison, all that time, so that he that is so bailed, shall not be said, by the Law, to bee at large, or at his owne libertie. Or Baile may be said of the suretie which is baillé, i. giuen or deliuered vp as a pledge to answer. So is the suretie said to be Baile for another man, Baillé, i. giuen or deliuered vp, that if the Principall appeare not at the day appointed, the Baile is to answer the Action or matter. Baile is called in Latine Manucáptio. Vide Mainprise.

E. pro talibus terris, in tali villa, & habet Chirographum per pacem admiſſum, &c.

m ☞ Clarke of the Peace, Cléricus Pacis, is an Officer belonging to the Seſſions of the peace. His dutie is in the Seſſions to reade the Indictments, to enroll the Acts, and draw the proceſſe, to record the Proclamations of rates for ſeruants wages, to enroll the diſcharge of Apprentices, to keepe the Counterpaine of the Indenture of Armour, to keepe the Regiſter Booke of Licences giuen to Badgers and Laders of corne, and of thoſe that are licenſed to ſhoot in guns, and to certifie in to the Kings Bench tranſcripts of Indictments, Outlawries, Attainders, and Conuictions, had before the Iuſtices of peace within the time limited by Statute. ¶ Lamb: Eirenarchia lib:4.ca:3.fo:379.

n ☞ Clarke of the Signet, Cléricus Signetti, is an Officer continually attendant on his Maieſties Secretarie, who alwaies hath the cuſtodie of the priuie Signet, as well for ſealing his Maieſties priuate Letters, as alſo ſuch grants as paſſe his Maieſties hands by Bill aſſigned. Of theſe there be foure that attend in the courſe, and were vſed to haue their diet at the Secretaries table. More largely you may reade of their Office in the Statute made Anno 27.H.8. ca:11.

o ☞ Clarke of the Priuie Seale, Cléricus Priuáti Sigilli, is an Officer (whereof there be foure in number) that attendeth the Lord Keeper of the Priuy Seale, or if there be none ſuch, vpon the Principall Secretarie, writing and making out all things that be ſent by warrant from the Signet to the Priuy Seale, and are to be paſſed to the Great Seale, as alſo to make out (as they are termed) Priuie Seales, vpon any eſpeciall occaſion of his Maieſties affaires, for loane or lending of money or ſuch like. Of this Officer and his function, you may reade the Statute Anno 27.H.8.ca:11.

p ☞ Clarke of the Iuries, or Iurata writs, Cléricus Iuratórum, is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Pleas, which maketh out the Writs called Habeas Corpora, and Diſtringas for appearance of the Iurie, either in Court or at the Aſſiſes, after that the Iurie or panell is returned vpon the Venire facias. He entreth alſo into the Rolles the awarding of theſe Writs, and maketh all the continuance from the going out of the Habeas Corpora, vntill the verdict be giuen.

q ☞ Clarke of the Pipe, Cléricus Pipæ, is an Officer in the Kings Exchequer, who hauing all accounts and debts due vnto the King, deliuered and drawne downe out of the Remembrancers Offices, chargeth them downe into the great Roll: who alſo writeth ſummons to the Shyreeue to leuie the ſaid debts, vpon the goods and chattels of the ſaid debtors: and if they haue no goods, then doth he draw them downe to the Lord Treaſurers Remembrancer, to write Extreats againſt their Land. The Ancient Reuenew of the Crowne remaineth in charge before him, and hee ſeeth the ſame anſwered by the Fermers and Shyreeues to the King. Hee maketh a charge to all Shyreeues of their ſummons of the Pipe and Greenewax, and ſeeth it anſwered vpon their accounts. He hath the ingroſſing of all leaſſes of the Kings Lands: and it is likely that it was at the firſt called and ſtill hath denomination of Pipe, and Clarke of the Pipe, and Pipe Office, becauſe their Records that are regiſtred in their ſmalleſt Rolles, are altogether like Organe Pipes: but their great Roll, called the Great Roll Anno 37 Ed:3.ca:4. is of another forme.

r ☞ Clarke of the Hamper or Hánaper, Clericus Hanapérij, is an Officer in Chaunterie Anno 2. Ed: 4.ca: 1. otherwise called Warden of the Hamper in the ſame Statute, whoſe function is to receiue all the money due to the Kings Maieſtie for the ſeales of Charters, Patents, Commiſſions and Writs, as alſo that due to the Officers for enrolling and examining the ſame, with ſuch like. He is tied to attendance on the Lo: Chancelour or Lo: Keeper daily in the Terme time, and at all times of ſealing, hauing with him leather bagges, wherein are put all Charters, &c. after they be ſealed by the Lo: Chancelour, and thoſe bagges being ſealed vp, with the Lo: Chancelours priuate ſeale, are deliuered to the Comptroller of the Hamper, or Hánaper. Whereas now the Clarke hath with him leather bagges to put in the Charters, it is likely in old times they were Hampers or Baskets, and thereof called Clarke of the Hamper, or Hanaper. Thus Hanaper repreſenteth a ſhadow of that which the Romanes termed Fiſcum, that contained the Emperours treaſure. Vi. Hamper, Hanaper.

s ☞ Clarke of the Plees, Clericus Placitorum, is an Officer in the Exchequer, in whoſe Office all the Officers of that Court (vpon eſpeciall priuilege belonging vnto them) ought to ſue or to be ſued vpon any Action, and thereof called Plees, and Common Plees, becauſe places whereupon Actions in Law are impleaded and ſued. Vi. Plea.

t ☞ Clarke of the Treaſurie, Clericus Theſaurárie, is an Officer belonging to the Common Plees, who hath the charge of keeping the Records of that Court, and maketh out all Records of Niſi prius, hath the Fees due for all ſearches, and hath the certifying of all Records in the Kings Bench, when a Writ of errour is brought, and maketh out all Writs of Superſideas de non moleſtando, which are granted for the Defendants, while the Writ of errour hangeth. Alſo hee maketh all exemplifications of Records being in the Treaſurie. He is taken to be ſeruant to the Chiefe Iuſtice, but remoueable at his pleaſure, whereas all other Officers are for terme of life. There is alſo a Secondarie or Vnder-clarke of the Treaſurie for aſſiſtance, which hath ſome allowances. There is likewiſe an Vnder-keeper, who alwaies keepeth one key of the Treaſurie doore, and the chiefe Clarke of the Secondarie another: ſo the one cannot come in without the other. Vi. Treaſurer, Treaſozer.

v ☞ Clarke of the Eſſoines, Clericus Eſſoniorum, is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Plees, who only keepeth the Eſſoines Roll, and hath for entring euery Eſſoine vj. d. and for euery exception to baire the Eſſoine vj. d. He hath alſo the prouiding of Parchment, and cutting it into Rolles, and marking the numbers vpon them, and the deliuerie out of all the Rolles to euery Officer, and the receiuing of them againe when they be written, and the binding and making vp of the whole bundles of euery Terme. And this he doth as ſeruant to the Chiefe Iuſtice: For the Chiefe Iuſtice is at charge for all the parchment of all the Rolles. The word Eſſoines commeth of the French Eſſoine, Exoine, m. i. an eſſoine, or excuſe, or toleration for abſence vpon a lawfull cauſe alleged vpon oath, fortè à Lat: exoneratus, exempted. Vi. Eſſoine.

w ☞ Clarke of the Outlaries, Clericus Vtlagiarium, is an Officer belonging to the Court of Common Plees, being onely the ſeruant or deputie to the Kings Atturney Generall, for making out the Writs of Capias vtlagatum after outlawrie. And the Kings Atturnies name is to euery one of theſe Writs. And whereas vij. d. is paid for the Seale of euery other Writ, there is but a pennie paid for the Seale of this Writ, becauſe it goeth out at the Kings ſuit. Vi. Outlawerie.

x ☞ Clarke of the Sewers, Clericus Sucrarum, is an Officer pertaining to the Commiſſioners of Sewers, writing all things they doe by vertue of their Commiſſion. For the which ſee the Statute Anno 13. Eliz: ca: 9. And Vi. Sewers.

y ☞ Clarke Comptroller of the Kings houſe (whereof there be two) is an Officer in Court, that hath place and ſeat in the Compting-houſe, and authoritie to allow or diſallow the charges and demands of Pourſuiuants and Meſſengers of the Greenecloth, Pourveyors, or other like. He hath alſo the ouerſight and comptrolling of all defaults, defects and miſcarriages of any inferiour Officers, and to ſit in the Compting houſe with the ſuperiour Officers, viz: the Lo: Steward, the Treaſorer, Comptroller, and Cofferer, Maſters of the Houſhold, and Clarkes of the Greenecloth, either for correcting or bettering things out of order: and alſo for bringing in countrie prouiſion requiſite for the Kings Houſhold, and the cenſure for failing of carriages and Carts warned and charged for that purpoſe. This Office you haue mentioned Anno 33. H. 8. ca: 12. Vi. Controller, & Gſænecloth.

z ☞ Clarke of the Nihils, Clericus Nihilorum, is an Officer in the Exchequer, that maketh a Roll of all ſuch ſummes as are Nihiled by the Shireeues vpon their extreats of Greene wax, and deliuereth the ſame into the Lo: Treaſurers Remembrancer his Office, to haue execution done vpon it for the King. Vi. Nihil.

bb ☞ Clarke of the Checke, is an Officer in Court ſo called becauſe he hath the checke and comptrolement of the Yeomen of the Guard, and all other ordinarie Yeoman Huiſſiers belonging either to his Maieſtie, the Queene, or the Prince, either giuing leaue or allowing their abſences or defects in attendance, or diminiſhing their wages for the ſame. He alſo nightly by himſelfe or deputie taketh the view of thoſe that are to watch in the Court, and hath the ſetting of the watch: This Officer is mentioned Anno 33. H. 8. cap: 12.

cc ☞ Clark Marſhall of the Kings houſe, ſeemeth to be an officer that attendeth the Marſhall in his Court, and recordeth all his proceedings mentioned Anno 33. H. 8. cap: 12. Vi. ſub voce Marſhall.

both of equall length, and each of them a Target, and with no other weapon may they enter the lists. And if the Defendant can defend himselfe till after Sunne-set, and as my Author saith, till you may see the starres in the firmament, and demand iudgement if he ought to fight any longer, then must there be iudgement giuen on the Defendants side. And Bracton agreeth heerewith in these words: Quòd si Appellatus se defenderit contra appellantem, tota die, vsque ad horam qua stellæ incipiunt apparére; tunc recedat Appellatus, quietus de appello, ex quo Appellans se obligauit ad conuincendum eum, vna hora diei, quod quidem non fecit. When the Defendant doth plead to the appeale not guilty, and vndertakes to defend it with his bodie, he must throw downe his gauntlet or gloue into the Court: and if the Plaintiefe doth enter Reioinder to the Battle, then must hee take vp the gloue or gauntlet; but if the Plaintiefe doth conterplead vnto it, then must hee suffer the gloue or gauntlet to lie, and the other shall demurre in Law or void him of the Appeale, because he refused his gloue or gauntlet. When they are sworne, they must produce Mainprisers or pledges to performe the Combat or Battle, and then the Court shall appoint them a day and place to fight, and as Fitz: p. 385 further saith, that the Challenger shall be at libertie, but the Defendant in the custodie of the Marshall, and the Marshall shall array them both at their owne charge, and that must be the night before the Battle, for that they may be ready in the feld or lists by Sunne rising. The formes of Battle described 17. Edw: 3. & 9. H. 4. differ from that described by Bracton and Britton, and that described by Dier, Termino Trinitatis, Anno 13. Eliz: as hee sets it downe betweene one Cheuin and another Paramour a Kentish Gentleman, about the triall of Land, and leuying a fine thereof: and on the issue Paramour chose the Triall by Combat or Battle, and had a Champion one George Thorne a Gentleman of Kent, and no doubt his dearest friend, that would enter the lists to such a hazard of life, &c. And the other had one Henrie Nailer a Master of Fence, and the Court awarded the Battle, and the Champions were mainprised and sworne (Quære formam Iuramenti) to performe the Combat or Battle, apud Totehill in Westm: 18. Iunij, prox: post craft: Trinitat: which was the first day of the Vtas of the Terme, and on the day appointed was there a Liſt málesoure-square on euen ground, euery square 60. foot, and East, West, North, and South: and the place and seat of the Iudges was made without, yet close vpon the Lists, and a Barre made for the Sergeants at Law, & circa horam decimam eiusdem diei, three Iustices or Iudges of the Common Pleas, viz: Dier, Weston, Harper, (the fourth, namely Welsh, was away by reason he was sicke) did repaire to the place in their Roabes of Scarlet, with their other Habits and Coifes, and the Sergeants at Law also: and there a Proclamation being made with three Oyez, the Demandants were first called for, and they came not. After that, the Mainpernours of the Champions were called to bring foorth first the Champion of the Demandant or Challenger, which came into the place in Rugged Sandals, bare legged from the knee downward, and bare headed, and bare armes to the elbow, being brought in by the hand of a Knight, * Sir Ieromie Bowes by name, who carried a Red Baston, of an ell long, tipped with horne, and a Yeoman carrying the Target, made of double leather, and they were brought in at the North side of the Lists, and went about the side of the Lists, vntill the middest of the Lists, and then came towards the Barre before the Iudges, with three solemne Congies, and there was hee made to stand at the South side of the place, being the right side of the Court. And after that, the other Champion was brought in, in like manner, at the South or contrary side of the Lists, with like Congies, &c. by the hands of * Sir Henry Cheney Knight, &c. and was set on the North side of the Barre (quite opposite to the other Champion) and two Sergeants being of counsell of each partie, in the middest betweene them: This done, the Demandant was solemnly called againe, and appeared not, but made default; vpon which default, Barham Sergeant for the Tenant, praieth the Court to record the Nonsuit; which was done: Then Dier Chiefe Iustice reciting the briefe, the matter, and issue of the Battle or Combat, and the oath of the Champions to performe it, and the prefixed day and place, giues finall iudgement against the Demandant, and that the Tenant shall hold the Land, to him and to his heires for euer quietly, from the said Demandant or Challenger, and their heires for euer, and the Demandants and their Pledges, de prosequendo, to be at the mercy of the Queene, &c. And then was there solemne Proclamation made, that the Champions and all others there present (which by estimation were about 4000. persons) should depart in Gods peace, and the Queenes. And so they departed with a shout, God saue the Queene. Likewise, according to the Lawes and ancient Customes of the Realme of England, 9. Iacobi Termino Hilarij, A Gentleman, by name Mr. Egerton, hauing challenged another Gentleman, one Mr. Robinson, for the killing of the brother of M. Egerton, slaine in the field vpon a quarrell betwixt the said M. Egerton slaine, and one M. Morgan, with whom (as it is said) the said M. Robinson at the same time went as a friend into the field, &c. The proofes being no more apparent, and the Defendant challenged, &c. as by the formes of our antient Lawes first aboue recited, it was granted by the Iudges of the Land, that it should be tried by Combat: The Gloue or Gauntlet was cast downe in the open Court, ex parte prouocantis, and received in due forme, ex parte defendentis. The Oath was administred solemnly, and pledges put in by each partie, foure sufficient men to answer for either, body for body. But an errour or scape being made in the plea, the bill was frustrated. so that they came not at all to the Lists. An Antiquarie, * Verstegan by name, in his Booke intituled, A Restitution of decaied Intelligence, in Antiquities concerning the most noble and renowned English Nation, sets it downe in these words, and saith thus: In the triall by Single Combat or Camp-fight, the accuser was with the perill of his owne bodie to proue the accused guiltie, and by offering him his gloue, to challenge him to this triall: the which the other must either accept of, or else acknowledge himselfe culpable of the crime whereof he was accused. If it were a crime deseruing death, then was the Camp-fight for life and death, and either on horsebacke or on foot. If the offence deserued imprisonment, and not death, then was the Camp-fight accomplished when the one had subdued the other, by making him to yeeld, or vnable to defend himselfe, and so bee taken prisoner. The accused had the libertie to choose another in his stead, but the accuser must performe it in his owne person, and with equalitie of weapons. No Women were admitted to behold it, nor no men children vnder the age of thirteene yeeres. The Priests and people that were spectators, did silently pray that the victory might fall vnto the guiltlesse. And if the fight were for life or death, a Beere stood ready to carry away the dead bodie of him that should bee slaine. None of the people might crie, strike out, make any noise, or giue any signe whatsoeuer. * This was so strictly and seuerely punished at Hall in Sweuia, (a place appointed for Camp-fight) that the Executioner stood beside the Iudges, ready with an axe to cut off the right hand and left foot, of the partie so offending. Hee that (being wounded) did yeeld himselfe, was at the mercie of the other, to be killed, or to be let line. If he were slaine, then was he carried away, and honourably buried; and he that slue him reputed more honourable than before. But if being ouercome he were left aliue, then was he by sentence of the Iudges, declared vtterly void of all honest reputation, and neuer to ride on horsebacke, nor carrie armes. Verstegan, pag: 64.

Neuer to ride on horsebacke.

use. For pag: 148. of the said tractate, you haue the forme of the oath there ministred to the se that were Iudges in this Court. And pag: prim: vsque ad pag: 46. causes of sundry natures, which in the said Kings daies were there handled and adiudged. This Court, as that Right honourable and learned Knight, in a briefe of his vpon the same Court, plainly proueth, was and is parcell of the Kings most honourable Counsell appointed by the King to keepe his Counsell board. The keeping of this Court was neuer tied to any place certaine, but only where the Councell sate the suiters were to attend. But now of late for the ease of suiters, it hath beene kept in the White Hall at Westminster, and onely in the Terme time. It is a Court of Record, wherein Recognizances are also taken by the Kings Counsell. The forme of proceeding in this Court was altogether according to the processe of summarie causes in the Ciuill Law. The parsons, Plaintifes and Defendants, were alwaies either priuileged as Officers of the Court, or their seruants, or as the Kings seruants, or as necessarie attendants of them, or else where the Plaintifs power or meane estate was not matchable with the wealth or greatnesse of the Defendant, or where the cause meerely contained matter of equitie, and had no proper remedie at the Common Law; or where it was especially recommended from the King to the examination of his Counsell; or concerned Vniuersities, Colleges, Hospitals, and the like. The causes wherewith they deale, and whereof they iudge, are of all sorts, as maritime, vltra marine, Ecclesiasticall, Temporall; but properly temporall causes, and onely of the other sort as they are mixt with temporall. The manner of proceeding in the said Court, is first by priuie seale, letters missiue, or iniunction, or messenger, or bond: Secondly, by attachement; thirdly, by proclamation of rebellion; fourthly, by commission of rebellion; fifthly, by Sergeant at Armes. The effect of the Defendants apparence, is, that he attend, de die in diem, on the Counsell, till he haue made his answer to the Plaintifes bill, and be licensed to depart, vpon caution, de iudicio sisti, & iudicato soluendo, and constitution of his Attornie and Counsell by name. The authoritie of this Court is such, as vpon cause to grant iniunctions for barring the Defendant from suing the Plaintife at the Common Law, and to stay the suit at the Common Law before the Commencement, and not to arrest the bodie of the Plaintife till further order be taken by the Kings Counsell. And the execution of a Decree in this Court may be done either by imprisonment of the person disobeying, being partie, or claiming vnder the partie, or by leuie of the summe adiudged vpon his lands. De Magistris Requestarum vel Libellorum in Gallia, grauis ille Autor Vincentius Lupanus lib. 2. de Magistratibus Francorum his verbis ita præfatur: Si quis diligentius consideraverit Præfectorum libellorum Authoritatem, eos reperiet summo apud nos in honore fuisse, atque facilè primum locum post Cancellarium obtinuisse in re iudiciaria. Musque primùm fuit porrigendi libellos Regibus, cùm intra reddebant: deinde cùm variis negotijs distracti essent, (vt fere propagata in regni finibus cura augescunt) factum vt simul mense postulationibus vacarent cum prudentum consilio, quorum maximum numerum habebant. Dyld, à Lat: Dies. Secundum verò Gentiles nominandi ſunt Dies à nominibus Planetarum, & quilibet Dies ab illo Planeta eſt nominandus, qui præeſt primæ horæ illius diei, vt Dies Solis, Dies Lunæ, Dies Martis, Dies Mercurij, Dies Iouis, Dies Veneris, Dies Saturni. Sunt enim 24. horæ in Die naturali, & Planetæ ſunt 7. qui præſunt iſtis 24. horis, quas habent in ſua poteſtate hoc ordine: Primus habet primam horam, Secundus habet ſecundam, ſic vſque ad ſeptimam: Poſtea iterum primus habet octauam, ſecundus habet nonam, & ſic vſque ad 14. horam. Poſtea rurſus primus habet decimam quintam, ſecundus decimam ſextam, & ſic vſque ad 21. Poſtea iterum primus habet vigeſimam ſecundam horam, ſecundus vigeſimam tertiam, tertius vigeſimam quartam horam, & ſic finitus eſt Dies 24. horarum. Quartus ergo Planeta qui ſequitur habebit primam horam ſequentis diei, & ita ille Dies denominabitur ab eo. Exempli gratia, ponatur quod iſte Dies hodiernus ſit Dies Saturni, & habeatur ordo Planetarum qui talis eſt, habito principio à ſuperiori ſic, Saturnus, Iupiter, Mars, Sol, Venus, Mercurius, Luna. Igitur Saturnus huic habet primam horam, Iupiter ſecundam, Mars tertiam, Sol quartam, Venus quintam, Mercurius ſextam, Luna ſeptimam: Iterum Saturnus octauam, Iupiter nonam, Mars decimam, Sol vndecimam, Venus duodecimam, Mercurius 13. Luna 14. Rurſus Saturnus 15. Iupiter 16. Mars 17. Sol 18. Venus 19. Mercurius 20. Luna 21. Item Saturnus 22. Iupiter 23. Mars 24. vltimum. Sol ergo qui ſequitur habebit primam horam ſequentis Diei, Vnde ille Dies dictus eſt Dies Solis, & ſic inuenies ſi enumeres Dies cæteros ſecundum ordinem Planetarum, vt ſuprà. Dates were called by the Heathens and Romans of the Latine Diſs, that is, Gods, which they then worſhipped, amongſt whom were the 7. Planets, vnto each of which they dedicated a day of the weeke, and called it by the name of that Planet which had the firſt houre of that day. The names of the 7. Planets are theſe, in order thus: Saturne, Iupiter, Mars, Sol, Venus, Mercurie, Luna. Now note that in the naturall day there be 24. houres, and Planets 7. which doe gouerne theſe 24. houres, after this maner: The firſt Planet hath the firſt houre, the ſecond hath the ſecond, and ſo vnto the ſeuenth: Againe the firſt planet hath the eighth houre, the ſecond the ninth, ſo vnto 14. Afterwards the firſt planet hath the 15. houre, the ſecond the 16. and ſo foorth to 21. Then yet againe the firſt planet hath the 22. houre, the ſecond the 23. the third planet the 24. houre, and ſo the whole naturall day of 24. houres is finiſhed and ended. Therefore the 4. Planet that followeth ſhall haue the firſt houre of the following day, and ſo that day ſhall take his name of that Planet. As for example, ſuppoſe this day were Saturday, let vs beginne with his Planet, being firſt as they lie in order, Saturne, Iupiter, Mars, Sol, Venus, Mercurie, Luna, as before: therefore for this Saturday, the Planet Saturne hath the firſt houre, Iupiter the ſecond, Mars the third, Sol the fourth, Venus the fifth, Mercurie the ſixth, Luna the ſeuenth, then Saturne againe the eighth, Iupiter the ninth, Mars the tenth, Sol the eleuenth, Venus the twelfth, Mercurie the 13. Luna the 14. then Saturne againe 15. Iupiter 16. Mars 17. Sol 18. Venus 19. Mercurie 20. Luna 21. then once againe Saturne 22. Iupiter 23. Mars 24. and the laſt of that day, then followes Sol, which is to haue the firſt houre of the next day, which is called Sunday, in Latine Dies Solis, and ſo conſequently you ſhall finde the daies of the weeke to fall vnder their proper Planets, by reckoning them and the houres as aboue I haue told you.
